Design is changing, and to educate the next generation of designers, these changes need to be addressed. In light of the growing role research and interdisciplinary collaboration play in contemporary design performance, Design Integrations calls for an innovative shake up in design education. Poggenpohl asserts that design research is developed through a typology within academic and business contexts, and follows different research theories and strategies. Such issues in design collaboration are explored in-depth, with essays on an inter-institutional academic project, cross-cultural learning.

Graduate Aptitude Test in Engineering (GATE) is one of the most competitive exams taken by engineering graduates. The Indian Institute of Science (IIS), Bangalore and the seven Indian Institute of Technology (IITs) jointly conduct the GATE exam every year. GATE provides a golden opportunity for aspirants to develop their interests in various aspects of science. It is very popular among engineering aspirants as it facilitates them with innovative and learning experience in the field of science and technology. The Indian Institute of Technology, Delhi is the chief organizing institution of GATE Life Sciences 2020.

The Conference on "Mathematics and the 21st Century" was held in Cairo, Egypt during the period 15-20 January 2000. The conference's sessions consisted of plenary lectures and topical sessions. Some of the plenary lectures covered general fields such as: rewriting the history of mathematics; education of mathematics; relation between mathematics and sciences; and mathematical aspects of transportation.
